1:13	CAM 2: CU BECCA CG: Becca Name LT SVR A: BRITs Recap VO	BECCA: As we all know the BRIT Awards isn't the most exciting show during this season, but here are some highlights.  Kate Moss accepted David Bowies award for Best British Male while wearing one of his original outfits from the Ziggy Stardust era. Following Arctic Monkeys win in the Best British Group category, Alex Turner told the audience "There's a lot of people that require thanks for this, but they need to hear their names read out as much as you need to hear another list of people you don't know." Thanks

TRT 03:06		for sparing us, Alex. Really. Lorde performed 'Royals' in collaboration with Disclosure which according to Twitter seemed to please no one. Pharrell's hat made another appearance as he performed Get Lucky with Niall Rodgers. Man, is he committed to that thing. Harry Styles was late to accept an award because he was in the bathroom, and host James Corden wouldn't let him forget it. Speaking of James, him and Nick Grimshaw shared a tender moment on screen. Lastly, Alex Turner's excellence in speeches struck again when he gave a speech regarding rock n roll's unwillingness to lay down and die, in which he spoke as if it was some form of sentient being and not the product of musicians brandishing guitars and leather jackets. Then he proceeded to drop the microphone and walk off.

If you haven't heard of 5 seconds of Summer already, you better watch out. The Australian quartet is set to make it big this year with the release of their debut album under Capitol Records. The band got their big break opening up for One Direction on their Take Me Home Tour last year and haven't stopped working since. They've written songs with major artists like Alex Gaskarth from All Time Low, and Benji and Joel Madden of Good Charlotte. While in LA, the band created a music video for their debut single She Looks So Perfect, check out this clip.
